THAT WHICH IS NOT IN MOTION HAS NO PART IN REALITY, AND ANY ATTEMPT TO PICTURE REALITY AND LIFE MUST, OF NECESSITY, FAIL. HOWEVER, THE MAKERS OF THIS ANNUAL FEEL THAT WRITTEN AND PICTURED ACCOUNTS OF THE PAST WILL, IN SOME WISE, HAVE THE POWER TO CONJURE UP IN THE MEMORY OF THE READER THE SAGA OF HIS YEARS HERE. THERE IS ALSO A HOPE WHICH WE RECORDERS HAVE, AND THAT IS THAT THESE RETURNS INTO THE PAST MAY SERVE TO REMIND THE READER THAT SEWANEE IS AN EVER-DEVELOPING THING, AND THAT THE READERS OF PAST ANNUALS HAVE HAD NO LITTLE PART IN THIS EXPRESSION OF VITALITY.

A PLAN FOR THE COMPLETION OF THE COLLEGE
BY EDWARD McCRADY, JR., MODIFIED FROM

QUADRANGLE OF THE UNIVERSITY OF THE SOUTH
AN EARLIER PLAN BY SILAS MCBEE

THE MATERIAL SEWANEE

NO SCHOOL IS SUPERIOR TO ITS PHYSICAL PROPERTY, AND A SCHOOL WITH A FINE PLANT IS ALREADY A LONG WAY ON THE ROAD TO HIGH STANDARDS. THOSE WHO ARE LEAVING SEWANEE AS SENIORS HAVE SPENT FOUR YEARS IN A SCHOOL WHICH IS SITUATED IN A MOUNTAIN PARADISE ON A VAST DOMAIN OWNED BY THE UNIVERSITY. AND FURTHER, THEY HAVE LIVED IN DORMITORIES WHICH ARE NOWHERE EXCELLED FOR COMFORT AND BEAUTY. THEY HAVE DONE THEIR WORK IN WALSH HALL, SCIENCE HALL, AND IN THE LIBRARY THAT IS, PERHAPS, THE LOVELIEST BUILDING ON THE CAMPUS. ON THE FOLLOWING FEW PAGES THE CAP AND GOWN IS PRIVILEGED TO PRESENT THE BUILDINGS OF THE UNIVERSITY.

This is the place where the student has most of his contact with higher education. He will not forget in a hurry the hours spent in lecture rooms here.

SEWANEE INN

This largest of the dormitories is equipped with a kitchen and dining room. Its beautiful lines make it a landmark on the campus.

SCIENCE HALL

Here in the gift of Andrew Carnegie are situated the lecture rooms and laboratories of the science departments. On the roof is the observatory.

BRESLIN TOWER

The University boasts a library housed in a beautiful Gothic structure, of which Breslin Tower is the most commanding portion. The student will long remember the bells which peal out every quarter hour from this central point of Sewanee.

ADMINISTRATION and Faculty

WITHOUT A COMPETENT ADMINISTRATION A UNIVERSITY WOULD BE UNABLE TO CONTINUE OPERATION, AND WITHOUT A FACULTY POSSESSING LOFTY IDEALS AND A STURDY MORALE THERE WOULD BE LITTLE VALUE IN HAVING A COLLEGE. AT SEWANEE WE HAVE BEEN FORTUNATE ENOUGH TO HAVE BOTH DEPARTMENTS WELL DEVELOPED. BUT EQUALLY AS IMPORTANT AS THESE THINGS IS FREEDOM, THE ONLY POSSIBLE BACKGROUND FOR WISDOM. WE, THE STUDENTS, SALUTE OUR PRECEPTORS, AND WE THANK THEM FOR THEIR UNTIRING EFFORTS TO BRING ORDER OUT OF OUR CHAOS AND THEIR GUARDING OF SEWANEE'S FREE HERITAGE.

BISHOP HENRY J. MIKELL

CHANCELLOR OF THE UNIVERSITY OF THE SOUTH

All who are of Sewanee realize that in the cultivation of the mental we must not neglect the spiritual. This, the foremost of Sewanee's ideals, is the reason that a churchman is the titular head of the University. The stimulating personality of Bishop Mikell is a never failing source of strength to Sewanee.

VICE-CHANCELLOR OF THE UNIVERSITY

The times are ever in want of a leader. Two years ago Dr. Guerry came to a Sewanee that was proud of its long and noble heritage, but a Sewanee that faced bankruptcy. The immediate concern of the new Vice-Chancellor was to remove forever the specter of want from the University. This first objective has been practically completed, even in so short a time. But his policy is more far reaching than this; a beautiful, vital institution that is the expression of the highest that is in the community and that produces men that return to the community possessed by a vision of greater life and the determination to practice it.

AT HOME TO THE STUDENTS

No record or picture of Sewanee would be complete without notice of the gracious hospitality of Mrs. Guerry. Charm, beauty, and jollity are permanent visitors in this household which has become that of the students. Years hence, equations forgotten, dates fled, and authors no longer remembered, Mrs. Guerry's image will remain bright in the hearts of Sewanee men.

DR. GEORGE MERRICK BAKER

DEAN OF THE COLLEGE OF ARTS AND SCIENCES

A Yankee Republican has to be pretty good to stay long in Sewanee, and Dr. Baker came here long before his students were born. As liaison officer of the College he has administered faculty decrees and heard student complaints with rare tact and good sense. In class good humor and sound scholarship make French and German fascinating studies.

DR. BAYARD H. JONES

DEAN OF THE THEOLOGICAL SEMINARY

Under the leadership of Dean Jones the Theological School has increased the number of its students and made several other changes. Besides his duties as dean, Dr. Jones is professor of Church History. He holds degrees from the University of California, Harvard, General Theological Seminary, and Oxford.

THE ANNUS MIRABILIS

All years are alike in that they have the same number of days, but the "Cap and Gown" feels that there are certain things in each year that set it apart from other years. This has been so much the case this year that it might even be said that the year was miraculous. Who would have thought a short time ago that Sewanee's budget would be balanced two years in succession, or that the Delta Shelta would ever put up a sign reading, "Clara's Restaurant."

The desire for protection is one of the most fundamental things in a man's nature, and the Sigma Nu's are no exception. The Indians have not long been removed from this mountain top, and the Fijis are still here. Realizing the delicacy of such a situation, the wily snakes were only too happy to cooperate with the Uniform Daughters of Conformity in building Fort Smith. When the wind starts howling in the trees, it gives Perot and Evans a certain sense of security to know that if anything should happen, there stands General like a stone wall blocking their view of it.

The laws of nature are rarely broken, but after a few stiff drinks they can often be bent. Now, anyone who has ever been in one of the rooms on the first floor of Andrew Carnegie's gift to the memory of per second per second, highly complex protein molecules, and apothimotropism realizes the truth of the principle of Archimedes to the toomanyth decimal place. It is uncertain whether Johnny Holmes has ever proved this principle by floating things around in the physics lab, but he gave most of us a start when he floated the Read House around the block, and according to his account, he didn't even get seasick.

Such things remind us of the time one lazy guy took his date home, swiped Mrs. Rogers' milk from the porch, held it high and christened it "Grasshopper Milk," and drank it so that he could hop back to Tuckaway. He happened to be hopping along with a friend of his, James V. (for Cautious) Gillespie, who has always had a fear of stumbling over things left by careless people in the middle of the sidewalk. Cautious was picking his feet up high, shoving them out, and then setting them gently down in front of him, but all this availed him naught, for his compass was amiss, and he stepped through Hurlbut Griswold's Union door and had to be taken to the hospital for being overcautious.

Most Sewanee students are conscientious and zealous in their work, and when an emergency confronts the University, their zeal knows no bounds. When a fire broke out one morning, Snooks Snowden got right in there and pitched ball. In fact, he pitched ball so hard that when anyone got in his way, he ascribed to that person immediate canine ancestry on the distaff side. There would be nothing unusual in this if a high executive of the University hadn't got in his way. Finis.

Some times late dates are harder to get than at other times, and this was especially true of the S. M. A. dances last fall. Gilbert Wright had tried in about ten different quarters when he got this bright idea. He swiped a waiter's jacket from Mag, went over to the Union, carried drinks to the tables for Ab, and slipped a high pressure note to each girl he served. Believe it or not, he expected to get something out of that.

One local sports writer after he had finished writing a glowing account of the

The present year has been fraught with many dangers to the status quo in Sewanee. The Red Menace has been boring from within with unusual energy and voracity. Led by one, G. M. Baker, dean, the local Crimson and Bloody Red following has begun preparing the way for the Revolution by conscientiously working for the dissolution of present society and the stimulation of social thought. In an effort to hasten the decay of capitalistic society more frequent and more strenuous beer parties have been advocated, and girls have been encouraged to increase the length of their visits to the mountain from two days to two weeks. An attack was also made upon the curriculum; the substitution of courses in commissarology and anticounterrevolutionism for the sickeningly bourgeois languages and physical sciences has finally been effected. John Atkins was tricked into growing a great, dark, mysterious cloud around his chin, but the ever-vigilant matrons succeeded in averting any immediate uprising by making him shave it off before he could come into Mag. (A despicable instance of capitalistic coercion).

Next to Hell-Week, Rush-Week is the funniest time of the year. Underneath the warm glow of friendship that seems to clothe all things with a veil of loveliness there is a hard and bitter struggle. Add to this the fact that we have an effibrainstorm. Tynes was told to spill a little green on himself and go around with the frosh to find out what the other frats were doing, and who they were most interested in. At the Phi Gam house a three-ring circus took place when John Shelton gave the boys the story that Tynes was an all-state football player, president of his high school student body, a scholarship man, and a general B. M. O. C. Tynes' whole date card was filled by the enterprising Phi Gams. Later that night at the Sig Alph house some of the boys knew him, so his espionage career stopped there—all he got from them was a good bull session.

As usual, everyone hoped all during the year that the world's champion acolyte and Magnolia howler would split a tonsil and go on a silence spell, but Bill Asger has a throat that just never quits.

Some years are beery, and some aren't. As far as this bifocaled writer has been

S. A. E.'s. The army was expecting all its vast horde to attend a party out at the edge of the mountain and instructions were given Bill Chitty to get 24 gallons of golden poison. Now Chitty hates to do something halfway, so he ordered 48 gallons. For some reason only about 20 of the boys showed up (2.4 gals. per person, in case you're interested), and it is rumored that they slept late the next day.

Members of the three upper classes have been studying and trying to perfect the technique of late dating ever since they have been in college, but some of the frosh seem to have been born with this propensity well developed. The A. T. O.'s gave a party for all pledges last fall, and by the time late dating was over (pretty darn late), nine-tenths of the boys had been late dated on by the undisciplined and unprincipled frosh that had been their Isn't it nice that the Wild West days have returned. There have always been boys on the mountain who wore cowboy bleak, but if we bring our glance away from Europe and fix it upon Nashville, there we see things getting better instead of worse. The former policy at Ward-Belmont was, "One girl, one chaperon," but now one unfortunate chaperon has to flit around taking care of several girls. It's quite possible that this will be a less efficient policy; some students think it has possibilities.

Among other new things this year is "The Bucket of Blood," dormitory extraordinaire, dwelling of footballers and Casebeer. 'Nuff said.

the Red Menace, and that is the influx of vodka into student medicine chests. Now, boys, vodka contains a number of what the chemists call "higher alcohols," and a dose of it frequently leads to one of the higher high conditions, not conducive to getting over colds.

Football season was particularly thrilling this year. The tricky Sewanee team played Southwestern under the lights, and the lights were so low that punts usually went out of sight. A fake punt by Bear-den and a pass to Stud Macon kept all of the Southwestern secondary occupied except the safety man who is, as far as we know, still waiting for the ball to come down into sight.

This annual would hate to leave out mention of a single improvement that has taken place this year. Sewanee this year had its Easter Vacation at Eastertide.

A soulful theolog with a lean and earnest face asked the other day whether the workers in the laundry had had the benefit of the Christian experience yet. But the laundry is a problem to many besides the theologs. It used to be that if you sent a couple of sheets to the laundry, they would come back as a dozen handkerchiefs, but now you are charged for having too many hankies in wash when they are kind enough to send' them back.

The Art Editor is afraid of having his work misunderstood by the masses, so he wants to explain it for them;

Perhaps you have been somewhat perplexed, if not amazed, to find such a prevalence of pulchritude, or, at any rate, a sincere effort to sketch a few members of the fairer sex, on these sectional pages.

Now, mark you, these illustrations (if I may be so bold as to call them such), are more than frivolous fidgetings with the pen. They constitute a serious intention to show the effect that four years in these cloistered halls has upon the smooth, glib-tongued, southern gentlemen. At least, that is the natural, unadulterated state in which we find him when he arrives on Mother Mountain. After the long Sophomore-Junior years, with scarcely a glimpse at a well-turned ankle, we find him making the best of the situation, suffering to be content with "a reasonable facsimile," which must be either found in the form of a photograph of the girl he left behind, (and who has since left him), or when he gazes wantonly upon Sheridans, Lamours, and Bennets in the cinema magazines. But to get to the point. After three long years of denying one's self indulgence in "worldly affairs," we find what remains of our svelte, southern smoothie at commencement of his college career. The "one and only," who has remained faithful forever throughout Junior's four years, arrives on the scene for Finals. But woe be unto him, for when the moment for which he has been waiting finally arrives, Joe College, '40, finds himself absolutely at loss for words, actions and deeds. So overawed is he by the occasion

In other words he is a complete "flop." Miss "Prom Trotta" gives up in disgust, late Academy, or if he has the courage, go out into the unknown world with the faint glimmer of hope that he may adapt himself to his new environment.

True, there are those who are less discriminating and wish to keep up their poise and personality at any expense.

And so they seek company in a closer proximity, covering a radius of 10 to 20 miles around the foot of the mountain.

But this also has its disadvantages, for

'tis said that they inevitably acquire a peculiar accent through this association, pronouncing "night" as "nite," "light" as "lite," 'tight" as "tite" (these words pronounced with the long "i" as in "Sewanee-sustaining fund needs forty thousand dollars.") And this really offers no solution, in the fact that YOU have been on the Mountain too long. Or (more than likely), that your art editor's three years at the Academy and four in the University have left him in complete ignorance of the anatomy embodied in the female form.

(This dissertation only goes to show what it goes to show. Who wouldn't like to teach at the military school and wear a good looking uniform with brass buttons? For it has always been a recognized fact that women really "go" for a

It's hard to tell what will happen when some person or some group goes cultural. Sewanee has gotten more arty every day this year, so much so, in fact, that some of the mountain boys decided to write a play. The play was written, the cast chosen, and production was ready to begin, but the high and mighty Hosking walked out on us. However, it would not be proper for the cast, who had such high hopes, not to receive some credit for their being chosen, so we present herewith the cast.

PAN-HELLENIC COUNCIL

The Pan-Hellenic Council is made up of two members, a junior and a senior, from each fraternity. The primary purpose of the Council is to make rushing rules and to coordinate the activities of the fraternities. The presidency rotates among the member fraternities. The members are George Harris and Russell Andrews, Kappa Alpha; Hap Hale and Albert Dade, Delta Tau Delta; Robert Bodfish and Bernard Wrigley, Kappa Sigma; Frank Ball and Stockton Smith, Alpha Tau Omega; Tom Hatfield and Tom Phillips, Phi Gamma Delta; Frank Williams and Phil Evans, Sigma Nu; Jim Gillespie and Gilbert Wright, Phi Delta Theta; and Walker Coleman and John Holmes, Sigma Alpha Epsilon.

STUDENT VESTRY

The Student Vestry carries on the affairs of All Saints Chapel. They meet with the chaplain to transact such business as may come before them. Iveson Noland is senior warden, and Frank Robert is junior warden. The other members are John Nester, Newt Howden, Manning, McKeown, Knickerbocker, DeWolfe, Lyle, and Perot.

THE PROCTORS

The proctors are the representatives of the administration in the dormitories. Being appointed proctor is one of the highest honors in Sewanee. Head Proctor this year is Theodore Stoney; the others are Lee McGriff, Al Dade, LaVerne Spake, Marshall Ellis, and Al Chambliss.

PHI BETA KAPPA

The highest honor that can come to a college student is election to Phi Beta Kappa. Organized at William and Mary in 1776, Phi Beta Kappa has grown to include chapters in the best universities all over the country. But it is more than a mere honorary organization. "The American Scholar," published by Phi Beta Kappa, is one of the world's finest quarterlies. The faculty members are Messrs. Gass, Baker, Guerry, Bruton, Knickerbocker, Petry, Ware, Frierson, Mackellar, and Kayden. The student members are Albert Dade, Haywood Emerson, and Erskine McKinley.

OMICRON DELTA KAPPA

This national leadership fraternity is composed of those students who are leaders in campus activities. Election is confined to those men who have been members and officers of enough student organizations to amass the required number of points. The students who are members are Walker Coleman, president; Theodore Stoney, vice-president; Albert Dade, secretary; and Erskine McKinley. The members among the faculty are Messrs. Guerry, Flintoff, Baker, Long, Davis, Gass, and Eaves.

BLUE KEY

This service organization takes its members from those students who are best able to serve Sewanee. The usual policy is to raise money at athletic contests in order to present the University with gifts. Blue Key was founded at the University of Florida in 1924. The members are Theodore Stoney, president; LaVerne Spake, treasurer; Walker Coleman, secretary; Albert Dade, Erskine McKinley, Tom Hatfield, Arthur Whittington, Gilbert Wright, Lee McGriff, Hap Hale, Morgan Hall, Alexander Juhan, George Harris, deRosset Myers, Richard Corry, Clendon Lee, and Carl Schussler. The faculty members are Messrs. Griswold, Scott, Mackeller, and Frierson.

S O P H E R I M

One of the most active organizations on the Mountain this year was Sopherim. Under the able and energetic leadership of the president, Erskine McKinley, the mother chapter of the national literary fraternity, Sigma Upsilon, did more creative work than it has done in many years. Membership is taken from the three upper classes on the basis of papers submitted. Sopherim is divided into four groups, poetry, translation, fiction, and nonfiction. Each group meets separately and as often as is necessary to produce work which is presented at the monthly meetings of the entire chapter. This year the material criticized and studied at the meetings has been printed in pamphlet form in order that criticism might be more direct and helpful. At the end of the year Sopherim will publish a magazine of the best work produced by the members. This will be volume one of the permanent files of the best literary creations of the students of Sewanee. The members are: Erskine McKinley, president; Gilbert Wright, secretary; Bob Kuehnle, Bill Duckworth, Al Dade, Clendon Lee, Bayly Turlington, Tom Ware, Ashby Sutherland, Ben Cameron, Currin Gass, Bill Asger, Jim Solomon, Nick Zeigler, Paul Bachschmid, and Albert Atkins. The faculty members are Gen. Jervy, Messrs. Gass, Long, Griswold, Knickerbocker, Martin, Moore, Myers, McConnell, and Frierson. Dr. Knickerbocker is a past president of the national organization.

ERSKINE MCKINLEY

PI GAMMA MU

Pi Gamma Mu recognizes outstanding work in the social sciences and gives students an opportunity to express their views on social questions before a critical group. Meetings are held twice a month at which two papers are read, usually on opposite sides of a question. After the papers have been finished the authors are called upon to defend their positions against the arguments produced by the other members.

The purpose of the national fraternity, started in 1924, is to stimulate thoughtful consideration of problems confronting society from an unbiased viewpoint.

The members are Phil Evans, president; Erskine McKinley, vice-president; Clendon Lee, secretary; Gilbert Wright, H. C. Emerson, J. W. Emerson, John Varley, Hap Hale, John Duncan, Manning Pattillo, Bill Eyster, Robert Woodrow, Robert Bodfish, Walker Coleman, and Theodore Stoney. The faculty members are Messrs. Guerry, Kayden, Ware McDonald, Thorogood, Long, Myers, and Govan.

PHILIP EVANS

PURPLE MASQUE

All those persons who take part in any form of dramatic activity at Sewanee are members of Purple Masque. During the year several plays are given under the direction of William Hosking. Last fall "Death Takes a Holiday" was presented very successfully, but further plans have not yet been announced. The members are Hamner Cobbs, president; Dick Higginbotham, secretary; Bill Asger, secretary; Ed Petway, William Hosking, John Varley, John Atkins, Bert Atkins, George McCloud, Bill Duckworth, Walter Higgins, Phil Evans, Cress Fox, Hap Hale, George Perot, Stockton Smith, Fred Morton, and Newton Howden.

ALPHA PSI OMEGA

This national honorary dramatic fraternity draws its membership from among those members of Purple Masque who have shown exceptional talent and industry, by taking major roles in two plays, or writing and producing a play, or by doing unusual work as stage manager. The members are William Hosking, president; Gilbert Wright, secretary; Hap Hale; and Hamner Cobbs. The faculty advisers are Major Mackellar and Mr. H. A. Griswold.

UNIVERSITY CHOR

In the past two years great strides have been made in improving the quality of the music of the chapel. Increased numbers and more frequent practices under the able baton of Mr. Paul S. McConnell have brought the standard of the choir's performance up. So far this year there has been one special musical program consisting of carols and the Advent portion of Handel's "Messiah." Each spring an Easter oratoria is sung, but the name of the one for this year has not yet been announced. The members of the choir are Jack Allin, Paul Bachschmid, Armistead Boardman, Don Cianella, Mat Crane, George Eckles, Bob Fairleigh, Arden Freer, Stanley Gresley, Nagel Haskin, Henry Havens, Claude Hill, Tom Jordan, Alexander Juhan, Clendon Lee, Sperry Lee, James Linard, Erskine McKinley, Douglas Miner, Fred Morton, Jack Nester, Dick Park, George Perot, Frank Robert, Howard Sadler, James Sirmans, Charles Smith, Stockton Smith, Ashby Sutherland, Bob Vreeland, Nick Zeigler, and Bob Marshburn.

ORDER OF GOWNSMEN

ALBERT DADE

Unique among college groups is the Sewanee Order of Gownsmen. Composed of juniors and seniors, it is the sole governing body in the University. All committees and student organizations derive their charters from this body, and the standards of conduct of the mountain are set by it. Albert Dade is president, Walker Coleman is vice-president, and George Harris is secretary.

SCHOLARSHIP SOCIETY

All men who have completed four semesters with an average of eighty-five or better are eligible for membership. The scholarship serves to keep good men from doing only mediocre work and to give the average student something to strive for. Albert Dade is president, George Harris is vice-president, and Dean Baker is secretary. The other members are William Asger, John Atkins, Bert Atkins, Frank Ball, Robert Bodfish, Paul Burns, Frank Dana, Phil DeWolfe, William Duckworth, John Duncan, David Dyer, Marshall Ellis, Tim Gallavan, Hap Hale, Robert Kuehnle, Clendon Lee, Lee McGriff, deRosset Myers, Frank Robert, Bill Skinner, William Spencer, Paul Thrasher, Shubeal Beasley, Walker Coleman, H. C. Emerson, Kenneth Gregg, Dick Kirchhoffer, Erskine McKinley, Bob Seibels, Wilmer Wing, and Gilbert Wright.

HONOR COUNCIL

No word in a Sewanee man's vocabulary is more important than "honor." The all-pervasiveness and authority of the Honor Code is one of the first things that a freshman notices when he comes to Sewanee, and it is one of the last things he will forget when he leaves here. To the Honor Council has been given the trust of seeing that the concept of honor stays foremost in the minds of Sewanee men. Walker Coleman is president, Robert Seibels is secretary, and the other members are Dick Corry, David Dyer, Charles Wiley, and Frank Greer.

DEBATE COUNCIL

The Debate Council is composed of all students interested in debating. From the members of the Debate Council the varsity team is chosen. A meeting is held, in accordance with the policy inaugurated this year, each week at which practice debates are held followed by critical analysis. This constant practice has had its effect in developing speakers who think rapidly while on their feet, and who speak with more clarity and poise than before.

Many intercollegiate debates are held here, and Sewanee has several more away from home. The long debate trip this year will go to Chicago and will include many midwestern schools.

Clendon Lee is president of the Debate Council, Hap Hale is secretary, and the other members are Gilbert Wright, David Dyer, Bill Steele, Newton Howden, and Robert Bodfish.

THE SEWANEE PURPLE

No factor in college life is more important than the student newspaper. Without this unifying force, the student body would be nothing more than an aggregation of individuals. This year the "Purple" has added to its columns a regular calendar of events and a larger number of pictures. Increased interest has been shown in the "Purple" by the large number of applicants for positions on the staff.

Editor of the "Purple" is Erskine McKinley, Ashby Southerland is managing editor, and Frank Robert is associate editor. Student Business Manager is Robert Bodfish. The editorial staff consists of Bayly Turlington, Douglas Miner, Matlack Crane, Jim Sirmans, Henry Havens, Grenville Seibels, Charles Knickerbocker, Paul Bachschmid, Howard Sadler, Nick Zeigler, and George Perot. Jack Nester and Tim Gallavan are on the circulation staff.

C A P A N D G O W N

The yearbook of the University of the South is a record of the activities of the year and of the students and faculty. In the foreword the purpose of this thirty-fourth edition of the "Cap and Gown" was stated as being an attempt to see the manner in which the future greatness of Sewanee is growing out of the present. Their various phases of Sewanee life are treated in as much detail as is consistent with the early publication date and the restricted budget of the annual.

All students who have won a letter in some sport or manager-ship are eligible for membership in the S Club. Besides being an honorary organization, the S Club operates a book clearing house for needy athletes. The members are Arthur Whittington, president; Robert Snowden, secretary; Bob Seibels, Bod Bodfish, Bill Edwards, LaVerne Spake, Tom Morrell, Paul Thrasher, David Dyer, John Holmes, Bob Macon, Walter Higgins, Dan Cotter, Jim Gillespie, Jim Thomas, Dick Workman, J. B. Hagler, Algeo Fleming, Morgan Hall, Ross Apperson, James Lyle, Henry Sandifer, Earl Bearden, Tom Hatfield, Marion Kerr, Arthur Cranman, Sam McCutcheon, Park Owen, George Glover, Gilbert Wright, Francis Johnstone, Dick McCauley, Graham Roberts, Charles Wiley, Wallace Welsh, Phil Evans, Hamner Cobbs, and Robert Waters.

W A I T E R S ' U N I O N

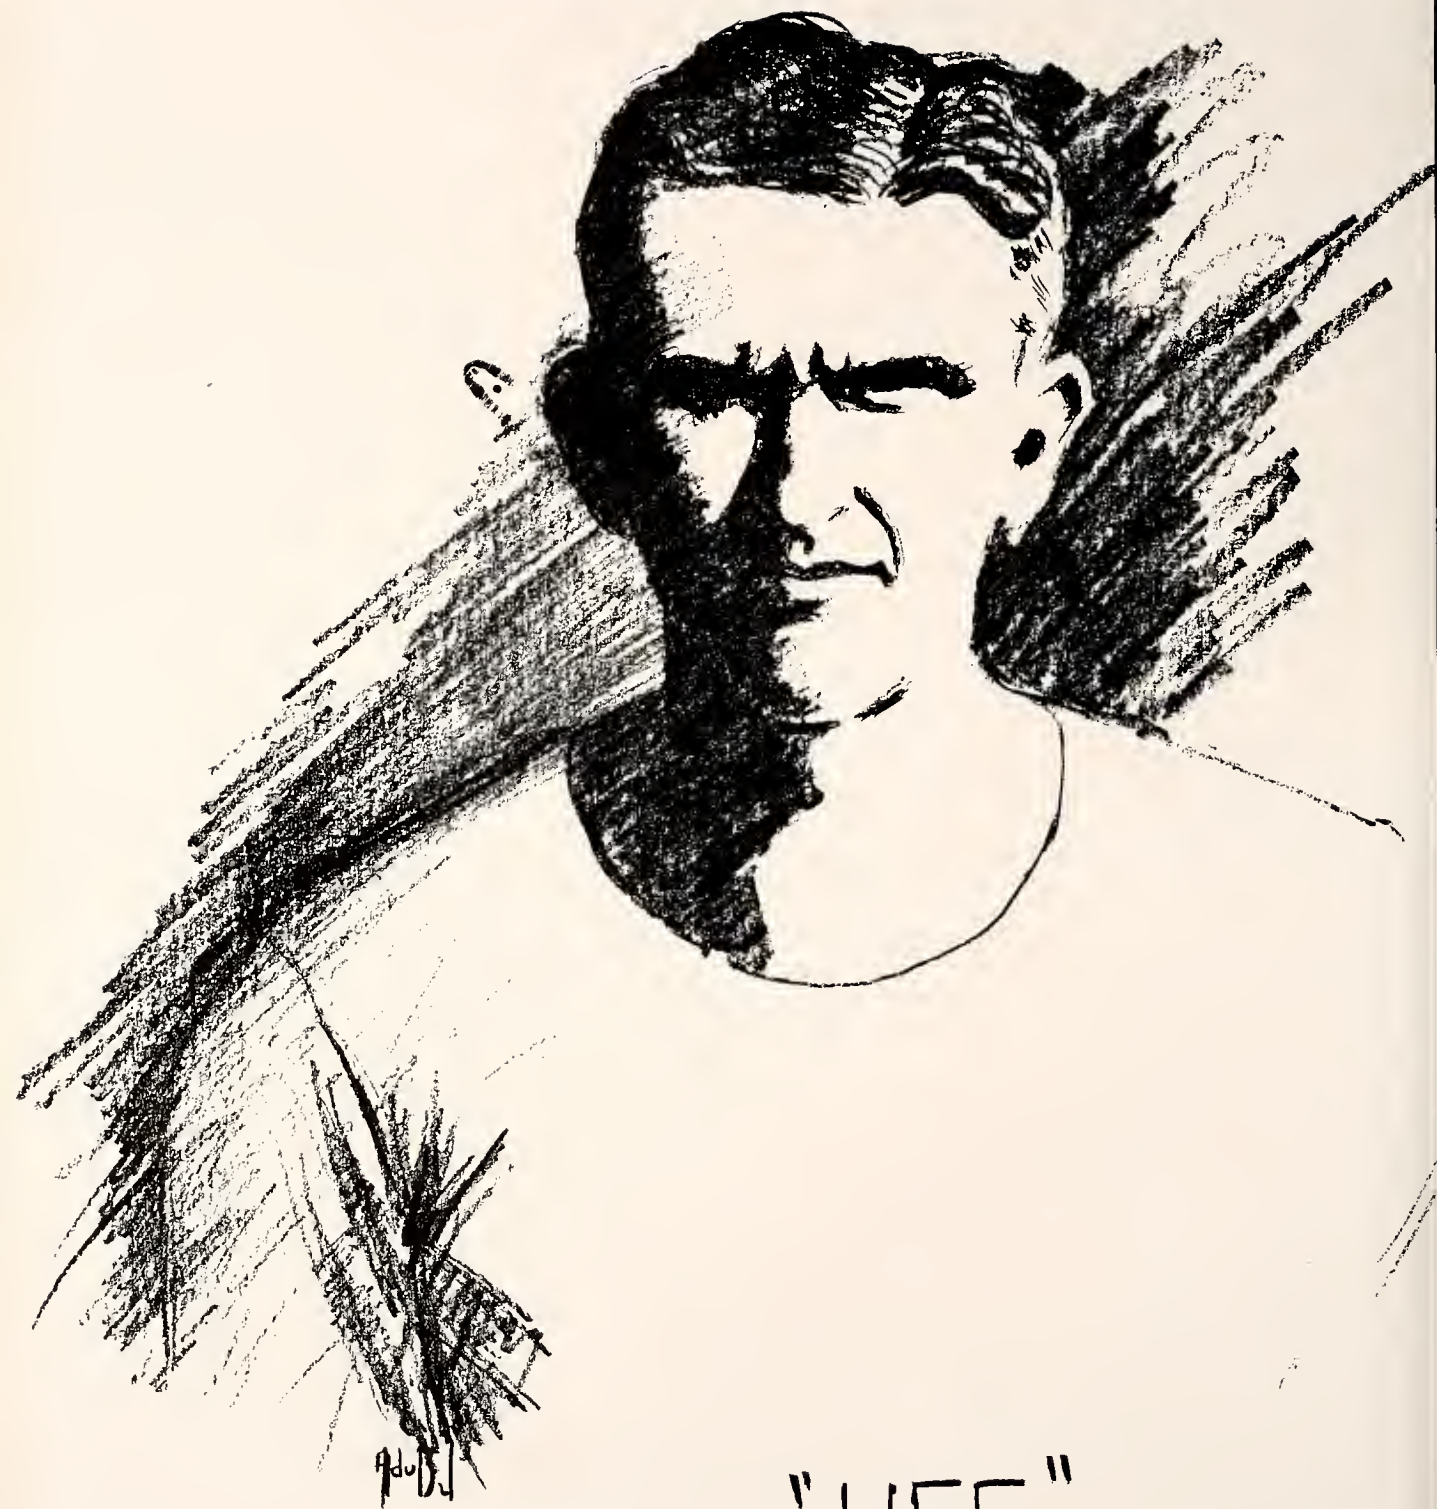

It is not necessary to mention the names of the members of this local tribute to organized labor, because it is impossible not to know these white-coated wielders of the staff of life. Outside of getting the greatest number of plates back to the kitchen in the least possible time, their chief objectives are to limit Casebeer to three cups of coffee per meal and to starve the theologists into submission.

G E R M A N C L U B

The Sewanee German Club is responsible for the high quality of Sewanee dances. It is the German Club which makes all the arrangements, engages orchestras, and decorates the gym. Theodore Stoney is president, Hap Hale is vice-president, and Ed Petway is secretary. The faculty advisor is Mr. Griswold. Membership is open to all students.

A GLANCE BACKWARD

When school opened last fall, hopes for a successful season were high, and these hopes were not disappointed. After the first two games, the Tiger seemed to find himself and finished the season with three wins. Moreover, the team had a morale and a confidence in every game that made Sewanee a dangerous foe.

Our opening game with the W. and L. Generals was quite a disappointment. Our offense never got in motion on the soggy field, and we were unable to keep the Generals from scoring. The outstanding feature of the game was the superb punting of Hagler.

The next Saturday Sewanee took on the powerful Tennessee eleven. Completely outclassed, the team nevertheless kept fighting until the final whistle.

Smarting under two defeats, the Tiger plucked every Eagle in sight. On Hardee Field we gained ground, no matter which team had the ball. The student body at the only home game of the season saw the Sewanee line break up plays, block, and tackle as one man, while the backs showed real coordination in advancing toward pay-dirt.

In Memphis against Southwestern everyone thought the game was to end in a scoreless tie, until in the final quarter an intercepted pass by Cranman gave the game to Sewanee.

The best game of the year was fought against the University of Chattanooga. A holiday enabled almost everyone to make the game, and from mid-morning on Chattanooga was a gracious host to the horde of Mountaineers that migrated down for the affair. Sewanee took the lead in the first half, but the Moccasins came back hard to push over a touch-down and kick a field goal. A last minute rally gave the Tiger fans a final thrill, but a fumble deep in Chattanooga territory and lack of time stopped Sewanee short.

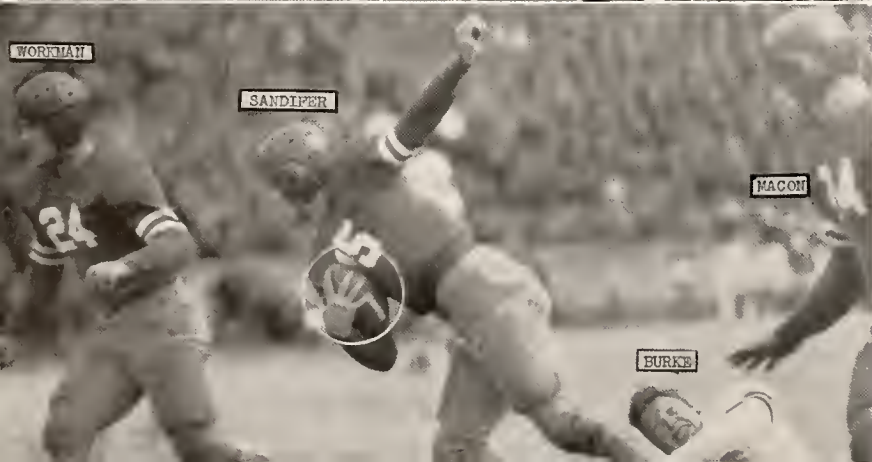

Against Vandy there was the usual hard game. Lucky breaks put Vandy ahead in the first quarter, although Sewanee was knocking the Commodores all over the field. However, the rest of the game belonged to Vandy, and so did the final score.

In Charleston the following week Sewanee whipped The Citadel. The team was not the only Sewanee group that did well that day; the small but compact band of Tiger supporters started air vibrations that haven't stopped yet.

The Tiger showed its claws once more when Sandifer kicked up his heels in an eighty-yard return of the opening kickoff against Tulane. Thoroughly beaten, Sewanee nevertheless showed the spirit that has made it respected wherever the pig-skin is to be found.

The last year of Hec Clark's coaching career was made happy by a splendid team, paced by Capt. Whittington.

Although this article must go to press before the basketball season starts officially, it is possible to make some predictions.

When the practice games started, the squad consisted of sixteen men. Six of these men had already had varsity experience at Sewanee, and seven of them were graduates of last year's freshman team. The remaining players were transfers.

At the center position the coach can take his choice of three good men. Hewitt, a big red-headed boy from the basketball-playing Midwest, ought to be plenty good in this important position, but he will have to keep on his toes to keep ahead of the other two applicants for the position, Wrigley and Roberts. These two boys, who are having their first crack at varsity competition, are plenty eager to get in there and mix it up, so the post of center is likely to be filled by any one of the three. There are two veterans slated to fill the guard positions. Macon and Whittington both have had plenty of experience, and there aren't more serious athletes in the conference than these two boys. However, that is not all there is to the story. Chitty, Apperson, and Welsh will be in there trying for their first varsity basketball letters, and Cranman, a transfer, will be trying to deliver the goods his first season as a Sewanee basketballer. When the going gets tough, there will be plenty of substitutes for this position if they are needed. Moreover, the competition for varsity berths will keep all the players on their toes. The situation is equally bright when we take a look at the forwards. Spake and Bodfish are two of the smoothest men Sewanee has had on the basketball court in a long time. Spake, his sophomore year, was high point man on the squad, and his playing was of the same quality last year. Bodfish is a consistent player, and his experience and accuracy are a great asset to the team. Morrell, also, has had experience and is plenty fast and tricky when moving toward that goal. Reserve strength is found in Sandifer, Waters, Morris, and Guntherburg.

In their practice games the team seemed to click very well, but their work around the basket was not very accurate. This, however, is to be expected at this time, because the boys have only been working out for a short while. In the middle of the court they seemed to be able to get their plays under way with a great deal of coordination and speed. Coach Eaves has had better teams each year he has been here, and from the looks of things this year should be no exception. There is a very good spirit among the players, and if the Christmas holidays don't take too much out of them, they should be in fine fettle to take their opponents when they open their season January ninth against Georgia.

BALL

The Baby Tigers got off to a very good start in football by smothering the T. P. I. freshmen 27 to 6 in Cookeville. This game saw a real backfield ace show his stuff. All during the game Dan Greer was passing and running with marvelous effectiveness. He was supported by wingmen who just couldn't miss, and by the fine punting of Dunn. Their next game was played against the Moccasins on snow covered Hardee Field. The Tigers scored early, but Chattanooga came back to even the score. Both teams were hampered by poor visibility and intense cold. Against the highly rated Vandy team the frosh could do little. The game was evenly fought till the second half when Vandy scored and then played defensive ball to win by six points.

At the time this article must go to press the freshman basketball season has only started. So far, the frosh have won a couple of games, but they have lost the same number. Their play is very good on the court, but their shooting has not been very effective. The two offensive stars have been Yochem and Wetzel, who show real ball handling ability. On the defense Marshburn looks very good. If during the rest of the season the boys show as much as improvement as they have since the first game, they should have a winning team.

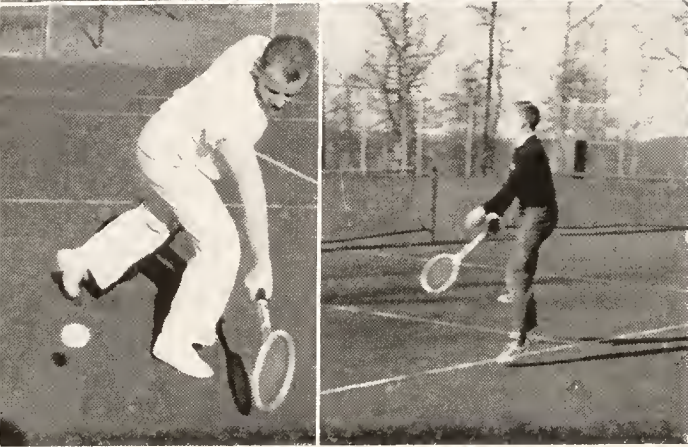

F R E S H M A N T E A M S

Track season starts at Sewanee with the interfraternity track meet. From among the winners in this meet the team is chosen. It is very early in the season to be predicting what kind of a team Sewanee will have, but there are some very good prospects in school. In the dash events there are such men as Hagler, Higgins, and Fleming, who have real speed. These are all veterans of past seasons, and their experience should stand them in good stead. In the pole vault, McGriff and Seibels have both had varsity experience and should be reaching top form this year. Two men who stand out in the distance runs are Dyer and Williams. Both of them are past winners of the two mile, and if Williams' football injury gets all right, this should be one of the team's strong points. There was a great deal of talent last year in the freshman class, and these boys will be trying hard in their first year of eligibility for varsity sports. Coach Lincoln has fine material, and with proper cooperation from the boys he should be able to produce a fine team.

T R A C K

TENNIS . .

Tennis has always been a popular sport at Sewanee, and it has become even more popular since the new courts were built. The prospects for a tennis team this year look pretty good. It's true that we don't have our stars of last year with us, but Kuehnle, Thrasher, Reynolds, and others should make up a fine squad. Plans are in progress to hold the Southeastern Tournament here again this year, because Sewanee courts and hospitality made such an impression last year.

GOLF . . .

The outlook for the golf team is very bright. Last fall there were some practice matches with other colleges, and Sewanee came through them undefeated. The varsity will be paced this year by Alfred Sams, with such players as Spake, Holmes, and Dana supporting him. The University golf course has been improved greatly in the past two years, and by the time the golf season gets underway, it should be in perfect condition. A clubhouse has also been placed on the course, and this addition makes the course much nicer.

I N T R A M U R A L S

One of the most important phases of the Sewanee man's life is his participation in a full schedule of sports. Placed in an unrivalled setting, the University offers to every student the opportunity of full physical development and sound health. The program of sports is designed so that the student plays games which he will be able to play all through life, benefitting both by the exercise and the comradeship of the playing field. Cups are given to the winning team in each sport, and the team with the greatest number of points receives a large trophy, emblematic of its superiority. The Athletic Board is planning to issue sometime this spring a booklet explaining the rules of all games played here, thus supplementing the instruction which is now being given by the coaches.

FOOTBALL

The intramural football season this year was the best Sewanee has ever had. It was a season of upsets with the Kappa Sigs coming through with only a tie to mar their record. That the teams were evenly matched can be seen from the fact that there were six tie games. At the start of the season, Phi Delta Theta, the winner last year, was picked to win easily, but they ran into a series of ties that put them out of the running. One of the features of play this year was the air-tight defense of the entire league, but the offensive strength of the teams was not impressive. The Kappa Sigs had the only offense that was able to gain any real amount of ground. In the standing the Sig Alph's were second and the A. T. O.'s were third. The "Purple's" All Greek team was as follows:

Center	NESTER (Outlaws)
Right End	LONGENECKER (Phi Delt)
Quarterback	MORRELL (Phi Gam)

VOLLEYBALL

This year the tall K. A.'s won the title from the S. A. E.'s in a playoff. Playing on the new court in the old gym the games were able to be held without interruption from gym classes and basketball practice, as has been the case in the past. Several teams looked good in their first games, but they could not keep up the pace set by the K. A. spikers, who rarely missed. Final victory came to them, because they were more coordinated and let the front line do the scoring.

BASKETBALL

The basketball season starts just after the Christmas holidays, and it finds out who had a good time while at home better even than Cress Fox and Ashley Purse could. Last year the Sig Alph's won in the final game against the Phi Delta Theta's, but it is impossible to say who will take this event this year. The talent to be found in the freshmen may change the complexion of the season, and both the Kappa Sig's and the K. A.'s will be out to get more points toward the big trophy. The A. T. O.'s are likely to loom up as a threat, because they have a lot of big boys who aren't out for varsity basketball. Competition is always keen in basketball, because nearly every student tries to get on his fraternity team. This year the games should be especially interesting, inasmuch as the coaches plan to devote some of their time to developing good form among the intramural teams.

T R A C K

There is as much interest in the intramural track meet as there is in any other athletic event that takes place on the mountain. This is primarily because many of the varsity runners are picked from the winners in this meet. The fine University track is kept in perfect condition, and interest is aroused by the prep school meets that are usually held here during the spring.

H A N D B A L L

The University is well equipped with handball courts, and the afternoon doesn't pass that they aren't used. This fast sport is becoming better liked every year, because it can be played no matter what the weather is or how much time there is left before supper. It is no trouble to get in a few games after lab, and the game provides a good enough workout for even the most hardy.

hoped that we will be privileged to see that kind of tennis played on them again this year. It would be impossible to say at this time what fraternity has the best material for a tennis team, because so many of the fraternity representatives graduated last year. A new crop of players will have to be developed, but in the spring that is no hard task on account of the interest in the game that is so evident at Sewanee.

T E N N I S

Sewanee possesses the finest tennis courts in the South. These all-weather courts on the golf course were the scene last year of the Southeastern Intercollegiate Matches, and it is to be

S W I M M I N G

The pool at S. M. A. is the scene of the swimming meet. About fifty boys participated last year, so it is clear that swimming is a popular sport. At the time this article is written the S. A. E.'s seem to have the best material for a team, especially in regard to dash men, but we haven't had the opportunity to see many freshmen in action, and some of the teams will undoubtedly be strengthened by this new blood.

G O L F

The golf course of today isn't the same as the one of a couple of years ago, and the work of improving it is still going on. Most of the upperclassmen who are good golfers will be trying for positions on the varsity, so the way should be comparatively clear for Jack Wetel, a freshman with plenty of talent, to clean up. Brooks Cotten, however, will be trying to do the same thing, so there are sure to be several good matches this spring.

A PROSPECTUS

Besides these sports mentioned above, many others are available in our well-equipped gym. Boxing, wrestling, tumbling, work on the bars, and many other healthful recreations are popular among the students. Also, Sewanee possesses unparalleled facilities for hiking over the large domain. Plans are under consideration to build shelter cabins to which students will hike to spend the night.

Acknowledgements

It is impossible for one person to put out a yearbook. Without the help of a competent editorial staff and a willing corps of advertisement seekers the editor and the business manager would be helpless. Moreover, it is necessary that the photographers, the engraver, and the printer give their full cooperation. The "Cap and Gown" has been fortunate to receive the help and encouragement of all the above mentioned persons, and we are deeply grateful for this interest. Especial thanks is owed to Sandy Juhan for his splendid drawings and his valuable suggestions. The Editor has been given full support by the faculty and the administration, and he wishes to thank them for their kindness. Finally, the Editor and the Business Manager wish to tell the student body that they have enjoyed producing this annual and that they hope they have in some wise justified the confidence which the students put in them when they were elected.

What Sewanee Stands For . . .

The Education of the Whole Man—

His body, in a physical environment and training almost ideal.

His mind, through courses in a scientifically correct curriculum, and through contact with a faculty strong in scholarship and personality.

His character, through the constant influence of Christianity as expounded and exemplified in the life of the University community.

The Making of a Citizen—

In theory, through the influence of that ideal of patriotism which we call the Sewanee Spirit.

In practice, through the dynamic living as a citizen in a community of which the student body constitutes the citizenship.

Individuality, Originality, Initiative.

Taught to think independently, plan independently, but to act as a community member.
